

Atsushi Koide is Professor at Waseda University Faculty of Law, where he specializes in financial law, corporate law, commercial law and trust law. Before joining the faculty in 2023, he was Professor at Gakushuin University Faculty of Law (2004-2023) and a research associate at the University of Tokyo Graduate School for Law and Politics (2001-2004), and practiced with the Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi, Ltd. (currently MUFG Bank, Ltd. 1998-2001). He received a LL.B. from the University of Tokyo. He has been a visiting scholar at the University of Pennsylvania Law School (2008-2010).

He is participating in UNCITRAL Working Group IV as a representative of Japan. He has served as an expert member to various organizations, including Ministry of Justice (Japan), Financial Services Agency (Japan), Bank of Japan, Accounting Standards Board of Japan, Tokyo Stock Exchange, Trust Companies Association of Japan, Japanese Bankers Association and Japanese Securities Dealers Association. He is also a director at Japan Association of the Law of Finance, Japan Association of the Law of Trust and Japan Registration Society.