

Prof. In Hyeon Kim

Professor, School of Law, Korea University, captainihkim@korea.ac.kr

In Hyeon, Kim, born in 1959, is a full time professor in Maritime Law and Marine Insurance Law and the director of Maritime Law Center at the School of Law, Korea University in Korea. He was a former master of Sanko Steamship Co. LTD, and he is a holder of valid Master's license.

He studied nautical science in the Korea Maritime University and law at Korea University. He obtained LL.D at Korea University and LL.M from the University of Texas at Austin. He studied maritime law at National University of Singapore and Tokyo University Faculty of Law as a visiting professor. He acted as legal adviser for Korean government to the IOPC FUNDS, UNCITRAL Transport Law Project and Legal Committee of the IMO. He acted as the president of the Korea Maritime Law Association. He was also a member of revision committee for Korean Commercial Code Maritime Law Section. He is a member of the Planning Committee of CMI. He is a legal consultant for IMO. He was the chief advisor for the minister of Korea Ocean and Fisheries Department.

He published several English articles on maritime law in the journal of maritime law & commerce. He is the author of "Transport Law in South Korea (Kluwer)".

